February 16, 2024

NEW YORK, Feb. 16, 2023 /PRNewswire/ -- NewGenIVf Limited ("NewGen" or the "Company"), a full-service fertility services provider in Asia that aids couples and individuals, regardless of fertility challenges, to build families and to increase their access to infertility treatment, and A SPAC I Acquisition Corp. (Nasdaq: ASCA) ("A SPAC I"), a publicly traded special purpose acquisition company, today announced that they have entered into a definitive merger agreement for a business combination of A SPAC I and the Company (the "Transaction"). As a result of the Transaction, the combined company is expected to be renamed First Fertility Group Ltd. and remain a publicly listed company on the Nasdaq Stock Market.

NewGen and A SPAC I Highlights

NewGen is a family of fertility clinics serving patients primarily from Southeast Asia. NewGen currently provides fertility services across three jurisdictions, namely Thailand, Cambodia and Kyrgyzstan. Upon closing, the Transaction will position NewGen to further expand its network and services and to better serve its community by providing increasingly comfortable, personalized and sophisticated services.

A SPAC I believes that the Transaction with NewGen presents an opportunity to invest in a promising company in a fast-growing market. A SPAC I's management and directors come from backgrounds ranging from veterans in the finance sector with over two decades of experience as well as entrepreneurs with extensive experience with business development, strategic management, risk, investment, finance and marketing in various countries across Asia.

Management and Governance

Following the close of the Transaction, the combined company will continue to be led by Mr. Siu Wing Fung Alfred as Chairman and founder and Ms. Tina Fong as Director and co-founder of NewGen. Mr. Siu is a passionate entrepreneur and leader in the fertility industry. He graduated from Stanford University with a Bachelor's and Master's degrees, after which he established and led a business through its initial public offering on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. He is supported by Ms. Fong, who co-founded NewGen and is actively involved in the oversight of the business units in Thailand and is a board of director of First Fertility PGS Center Ltd.

"We are so pleased to have entered into an agreement to merge with A SPAC I Acquisition Corp. We believe that this is an important milestone as we strive to become the leading fertility service provider in Southeast Asia within the next five years," said Chairman Siu.

"Since 2010, NewGen has been helping families in the populous Southeast Asian countries through their journeys towards pregnancies and building families."

"We expect that recent trends will lead to an increasing demand for fertility services. This makes it an ideal time for NewGen to go public, especially with lifted travel restrictions in a post-COVID world, which will allow us to assist families across Asia. A Nasdaq listing could help strengthen our brand and propel our growth in the region."

Claudius Tsang, CEO, CFO and Chairman of A SPAC I, stated, "The fertility space has attracted tremendous attention in recent years, and we believe that NewGen's potential will propel it into the limelight in the sector. It is our privilege to embark on this journey with an experienced and visionary management team led by Chairman Siu."

The Transaction values NewGen at an implied enterprise value of approximately $50 million.

The NewGen and A SPAC I Boards of Directors have unanimously approved the proposed Transaction, which is expected to be completed in the third quarter of 2023, subject to, among other things, regulatory approvals, the approval by A SPAC I's shareholders of the Transaction and satisfaction or waiver of other customary closing conditions.
